AUTHORITIES in Texas have filed corpse-abuse charges against two men who allegedly dug up a skull from a grave and used it as a bong.

The Harris County District Attorney's Office said yesterday that abuse of corpse charges had been filed in the case.

One of the men allegedly told police they dug up a grave in an abandoned cemetery in the woods, removed a head from a body and smoked marijuana using the skull as a bong.

Police found the cemetery and a grave that had been disturbed but were still investigating the rest of the story, officials said.
